MORRIS TAKES THE OATH.

AND NOW CONNECTICUT MAS TWO SETS OF STATE OFFICERS.

All the Democratic Candidates Recognized as Elected by the Sepate and Sworn In by Resolution of that Body-Gov. Bulke. ley Refuses to Recognize the Act as Legal-Bemands for the Offices Refused.

HARTFORD, Jan. 13.-The Democratic State Meers were sworn into office this afternoon ate. The session began at 1:30, but nothing was done until 3 o'clock. Then Senator Pierce introduced a resolution declaring that ballots are not votes until counted, and that, inasmuch as the Democratic candidates for the State offices had received a majority of the votes cast they were elected, and therefore should enter upon the duties of their offices at once. The resolution also named committees to wait upon the "State officers elect" to notify them of their election and ask them to wait upon the Senate and take the oath of office. Each of the committees had a Repub-lican member, but they asked to be excused from taking par: In the proceedings, and the Benate granted their requests. The resolution passed by a strict party vote-15 to 7.

The Democratic candidates, according to the the party managers, were waiting in the room of the Lieu:enant-Governor, adjoining the Senate champer. Another resolution was at once adopted, appointing a committee to walt upon "the retiring Governor" to inness the inauguration of his successor, The resolution caused much laughter and applause. This committee soon returned and reported that they had extended the invitation Gov. Bulkeley, who inquired by what authority the Senate proposed to inaugurate Blate officers. The committee replied that they could not enlighten the Governor on that point cause they had not been instructed by the Senate. The Governor replied:

Tell the Senate they have no authority to inaugurate State officers. Such action is revo-Senate to-day will not be permitted to take possession of the State offices."

The committee brought back the message. the report was accepted, and the committee discharged with thanks. The committee appointed to wait on Joseph W. Alsop. Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor. then came in escorting him.

Senator Pierce, who is a lawyer and a Justice of the Peace edministered the oath. Mr. Alsop then took his seat at the desk and presided over the Senate as Lieutenant-Governor. The others were then introduced to the Senate as the incoming State officers and sworn in. Then Marvin H. Sanger took the oath as Treasurer. J. J. Phelan as Secretary of State. and Meholas Staub las Comptroller. The Senate then adjourned until next Tuesday morning, when the lower House, will meet, having taken a recess until then last Wednesday. After the adjournment of the Senate. Judge Morris visited the executive chamber, and made a formal demand upon Gov. Bulke-ley for the transfer of his office. As was anticipated. Gov. Bulkeley declined to recognize Judge Morris as the legally elected Governor, and Judge Morris withdrew. Similar demands were made of all the other State officers, with the same result.

There was a lively time when Mr. Staub demanded that the Comptroller's office be turned ver to him. Mr. Staub's majority is larger than that for any other State office. The returns give him 1,662 over all. The Republicans do not claim that he was not elected. Comproller Wright was not in the office when Mr. Staub entered with A. E. Burr. Chief Clerk Moore refused to yield the office, and sent for Gov. Bulkeley, who hastened there, with his words, during which Gov. Bulketey said he sall out the militis to do it. After more words

The next move on the part of the Democrata will be to obtain from a Judge of the Superior Court writs of quo warrante, which will com-pel the present officers to show in court by what authority they hold the State offices. This move gives the Democrats an advantage over opponents, and may bring the present erisis to an earlier end than was at first ex-

The House committee to investigate the returns for State officers will meet at the Capitol to-morrow morning. They will disregard en-tirely the action of the Senate.

THE KNIGHTS IN POLITICS.

Mr. Powderly Tells the New York Convention to Unite with the Farmers

ALBANY, Jan. 19.-Delegates from about onehalf the district assemblies of the Kuights of Labor in this State met here to-day. There were about one hundred and eighteen persons present when the gavel of the President. Thomas B. McGuire, fell. Among them was T. V. Powderly, Grand Master Workman of the order. The work of the earlier hours consisted of the installation of officers and the address of Mr. Powderly. The proceedings were held behind closed doors. The burden of Mr. Powderly's speech was that the Knights had been too long under the thumbol political bosses, and should now act for themselves. He did not advocate a separate ticket, but advised affiliation with the farmors. Part of the address was devoted to labor legislation, which is to be pressed upon the Legislature this winter. The bills to estrongly advocated are the Anti-Pinkerton bill, the amendment to the Weekly Payment law making its provisions apply to railroads, and a bill to still further abolish labor in prisons, especially in the prison laundries.

A fecture of the meeting was the decision to organize hereafter a campaign in the districts A feature of the meating was the decision to organize hereafter a campaign in the districts of legislators whose record on labor bills does not suit the Knights. These are the new officers. President, John J. Sullivan; Secretary, Joseph R. Mansion; Treasurer, James A. Buckbes.
Mr. Pawderly was displeased to find only a half representation of the District Assemblies, and especially so because D. A. No. 147, one of the strongest in the order, with headquarters in Albany, had sent no delegate. However, he told those present, as he did last August, to stand firm, and, in the face of apparent disaffection, declared that the order was in as good condition as it ever was.

The New Hampshire Scuate Contest. CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 13.-The Roy. James K. Ewer of Concord was elected Chaplain of the Legislature to-day. Under the law. balloting for a United States Senator to succeed the Hon Henry W. Blair will begin in each branch of the Legislature next Tuesday. A Democrati caucus is called for to-morrow evening, and, although the Republican caucus has not yet been formally called, it is generally understood that it will be held Thu sday evening.

The Democratic nomines will probably be Henry Bingham of Littleton, who has been a party leader for thirty years, and is now serving his twenty-first term as member of the Legislature. The Republican candidates are benator Blair, ex-Congressman J. H. Gallinger of Concord, and ex-Gov, and ex-Senator P. C. Chenev of Manchester. It is said that Gov. Chenry leads his competitors. There will be no bolt, and the Republican caucus nomines will be elected. caucus is called for to-morrow evening, and,

Harlem Republicans Want the Force Bill. The annual meeting of the Harlem Republican Club was held last evening, Col. James Colvin presiding. As a preface to the installation of the newly elected officers, the club tion of the newly elected officers, the club adopted, by a vote of 57 to 0, the report of the Executive Committee expelling Herman Herzog from the club. Resolutions were adopted urging the passage of the Force bill, and a committee of five was appointed to go to Washington to-day for that purpose. Resolutions were adopted favoring the Shipping bill.

Senator Mitchell Benominated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Senator Mitchell o. Oregon to-night received a despatch from F. tive caucus, announcing that in a caucus this

M'DONALD RESEATED.

The First Act Performed by New Jersey's TRENTON, Jan. 13.-The New Jersey Legislature convened at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and within two hours had gone through all the formalities of organization. A stranger happening into the Senate chamber might have fancied there was a flower show in progress. The deaks of half the members were filled with floral designs, some of them huge pieces, completely hiding from view the Senators to whom they were tributes. For President Adrain there was a miniature arm chair, made up of the costliest flowers, the gift of the Democratic Society of Middlesex county. Senator Barrett of Essex received a star in which it is said there were $500 worth of roses, and on the desk of Senator Cornish of Warren rested a large basket of exotics.

These were the most notable floral displays until Congressman-elect McDonald of Hudson was restored to the seat from which he was ousted by the Republicans last winter. was brought in then for his desk a magnificent harp bearing his name in immortelles, and also the inscription. "Vox Popull, Vox Dei," The unscating of Sentor Stuhr and the researing of Mr. McDonald was the event of the day. The Senator Adrain had been sworn in as President, the new members had presented their credentials and taken the oath of office, and the Senate was declared in readiness for the transaction of business. Senator Wests of Morris thereupon are seand offered a resolution declaving substantially that the unscating of AloDonald by the last Legislature was illegal, and that the resolution at that time adopted for the seating of Stuhr was unjustified and unauthorized by the testimony in the case, and that it should therefore" be receited and for no hing holden:" that Mr. Stuhr was not entitled to a seat, and that Mr. McDonald was entitled thereto as a member from Hudson county.

Mr. Stuhr got the floor when the resolution was brought in then for his desk a magnificent entitled thereto as a member from Hudson county.

Mr. Stuhr got the floor when the resolution had been read, and argued that the proceeding was revolutionary and unconstitutional. He was entitled to a bearing and a trial such as had been given Mr. McDonald before he was deprived of the seat. No power could gainsay him the right of a judicial decision of the question. Senator Worts asserted that the proceeding was entirely proper, as each Legislature was the sole judge of the election and quantification of its own members.

Mr. McDonald was restored to his seat by a vote of 13 to 7, all the Democrate voting for the resolution and all the Bepublicans against it. Mr. McDonald was in an outer lobby at the time, and his appearance to take his seat was halled with applace and cheers that could not be suppressed.

A protest against the scating of Senator Keys of Somerest was referred to the Committee on Elections when appointed. It is objected by the Republicans that he is incligible by reason of the fact that he has not resided in the State long chough. He denies the assertion that he voted in New York relater as 1877.

John J. Mathews, who was defeated for Secretary, has been made made Engrossing Clerk of the Senate. The House was not organized as promotly as of the Secate.

The House was not organized as promptly as the Secate, owing to the great struggle for minor places. There were no less than forty candidates for the doorkeeperships alone. As predicted, Assemblyman Bergen of Somerset was elected Speaker. The Essex delegation voted for him in a body, and he received 25 votes all together. Mr. Mullone of Hudson received the other 15. Sheriff Davis. Dennis McLautchin, and John P. Feeney did everything possible to secure Mullone's election, but it was impossible, owing to the prejudice entertained against his county by the rural members. Thomas F. Noonan had already get enough support to make him Clerk of the House, and the rural members, knowing that Gen. Heppenheimer, also of Hudson, will be elected either State Treasurer or State Comptroller, have made up their minds to knock out all the other Hudson aspirants to office.

M. L. MORRIS RECOMES INVISIBLE. His Store Emptied of Goods and Even the

It is reported that M. L. Morris, dealer in cloakings at 58 Lispenard street, has disappeared, owing his creditors a large amount. He began the present business about five years ago, baving previously been a partner in the firm of Morris & Lithauer. He professed to have a capital of $18,000. Creditors said yesterday that they had been unable to find him either at his place of business or at home. although they had called repeatedly. although they had called repeatedly. The store at 58 Lispenard street was lecked up yesterday. Through the cracks in the door a lot of empty shelves and old boxes could be seen. Persons in the neighborhood said that Morris had not been saven around there since act week, and that considerable stock had been casted away.

A large creditor said that his efforts to find Mr. Morris had been unsuccessful but that it was believed that Morris was still in the city. Morris had cleared out everything from his place of business as clean as a whistle leaving nothing of any value, even removing the sign nothing of any value, even removing the sign place of business as clean as a whistle leaving nothing of any value, even removing the sign from the door. He had bought goods up to Dec. 31 on credit, and the goods could not be found. He had good credit in the trade on the strength of his father's reputed wealth. The creditor further said that the liabilities might be anywhere from $25,000 to $75,000, but he thought the first amount was nearer right. William H. Sandifer, jeweller at the Fifth Avenue Hotel is offering to compromise with his creditors at 50 cents on the doltar.

NOT ENOUGH TO PAY HOTEL BILLS.

Connecticut Legislators Complain of HARTFORD, Jan. 13.-Now that Connecticut has biennial legislative sessions the lawmakers propose to strike for higher wages. They don't expect better pay for the present the Constitution, severding to which the wages of legislators in 1-93 shall be $500, with travelling expenses added. They now get $300 and travelling expenses. Since blennial sessions have been in vogue the Assembly sits for a much longer period, and the lawmakers say that $300 is no longer enough to settle their hotel bills. The sessions used to last about six weeks or two months: new they are apt to continue for three or four months.

To fasten the proposed amendment to the Constitution b th houses of the General Assembly must adopt it by a two-thirds vote of all the members. Then it must be approved by the voters of the State at the polls.

Climbed Mount Killington in Winter. RUTLAND, Jan. 13 .- Three young men made task that had never been attempted before in winter. The young men were George B. Boyce, Harry L. Dickerman, and Charles E. Alexander. The start was made from Butland In a sieigh at 4:45 Saturday afternoon. All were heavily clothed in furs, and besides provisions their outfit included moccasins and snow sions their outilit included moccasins and snowshoes, field glasses, a mirror for a flash light, and a supply of rockets. They bassed the night at a farm house at the foot of the mountain, and carly Sunday morning the real work of the journey began.

The morning was hazy. The zig-zag road to the Killinaton House, the summer hotel, is four miles long, and this part of the journey was made in two hours and eight minutes.
After a short rest the climb to the summit, a distance of about a quarter of a mile up a steep ascent, was begun. This was a bit of hard climbing, but it was accomplished in twentyfive minutes. A hallstorm was in progress, and there was no possibility of making a display with rockets or mirror.

Doesn't Want to He His Wife's Guardian. The application of Lizzie H. Fuller for the removal of her husband, Dr. Frazer C. Fuller, as guardian and custodian of her estate, came up before Surrogate Ransom yesterday. She asserts that her busband, as guardian, received asserts that her husband, as guardian, received for her about $5,000 in cash and jewelry which he persisted in keeping despite the fact that he has brought suit against her for absolute divorce. She charges that the Doctor has misappropriated $2,000 to his own use.

In behalf of Dr Fullerit was stated that he had just completed his application to be relieved from his guardianship when notice of his wife's application was served upon him. He denies the charges of misappropriation, and says he has denosited to her credit in a trust company all of her money. The Surrogate said he would take the matter under advisement until next week, when the Doctor's application will be heard.

Sixty-aeven bills were found in the box.

Among them was a till for a correct sumeration of the inhabitants of the State, introduced by Mr. Blumenthal. The bill was prepared under the direction of the Governor. Under its provisions the Secretary of State is to transmit to the Clerk of each county uniform blank returns and copies of the law, two fos each election district in the county. The County Clerks are to appoint one or more enumerators for each town or ward. The pay of the enumerators will be $1 a day. The Secretary of State is to decide how many shall be appointed, if more than one is necessarr. The enumerators are to be find their work on the first Monday in May next, end their returns are to be made to the County Clerks on or before June 1. Every person casualty absent at the time of taking the semmeration is to be enumeration at the time of the County Clerks and the first Monday in May next, end their researched to the secretary of State by the County Clerks and the first Monday in May the County Clerks and the language to which he usualty review. The Secretary of State by the County Clerks and the is to report them to the Logislature.

The inward fragrance of each other's heart."

So Keats describes the lovers in "Isabella." Many lovers have been separated because the health of the lady in the case failed. No man finds attraction in a woman who is subject to nervous excitability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms, commonly attendant upon functional derangement and organic diseases peculiar to women.

The remedy for all such maladies is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. As a soothing and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. As an invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the uterine organs as well as to the whole system. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no sugar or syrup to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage.

For all displacements, as prolapsus, retroversion, anteversion and flexions, causing weak and aching back, bearing down sensations, ulceration, unnatural discharges and kindred ailments, the "Favorite Prescription" is an unequaled remedy, and the only guaranteed one. You only pay for the good you get in using Dr. Pierce's Favorite ceive suitable compensation. A State appropriation of $10,000 is made for the purposes of the bill, but the payment of the enumerators falls on the counties.

The penalty for refusing to give information or for wiffully giving false information is a fine of $50. The enumerators to count the lindians are to be appointed by the Secretary of the State.

THE SENATE.

The Senate's session was not so interesting, but it was quite as brief. Senator Coggeshall put in a resolution asking Congress to pass the bill before it to prevent adulterations of food and mat liquots. There were three important bills from Brooklyn, one appropriating $1,000,000 for parks, and a third exempting the bonds of the city from taxation. Senator Laughlin introduced a bill providing for the submission to the people of a constitutional amendment to make the terms of State officers and Senators four years and of Assemblymen two years, with biennial sessions of the Legisture.

PILOTING A HORSE CAR.

A Man Must Have Nerve and Skill to Drive In the busier thoroughfares the street car driver must be a man of nerve and skill. It is by no means easy work to navigate a car in a street like Broadway. The channel is narrow and filled with all sorts of craft tacking in all directions, and often most unexpectedly. The driver must be alert and vigorous. With one hand on the brake and the other on the reins he is even busier than the pilot who whicls the spokes on a crowded river; and the driver can't turn out; if he does he goes aground. He must stick to the channel and avoid collisions, and go ahead when the channel is clear.

It is a pleasure to see a good driver shoot the rapids of lower Broadway. Captain, engineer, and pilot, all in one, he stands erect and self-reliant on the bow of the car. He keeps the horses moving briskly, but he has also a firm hand on the brake, which he holds all the time just on edge so that it does not retard the movement of the car, and yet so that it will grip the wheels at a touch.

He knows the stream well, but he keeps his ere on the channel and on the shoals and rocks at the crossings and where other streams come the spokes on a crowded river; and the driver at the crossings and where other streams come in, and he never relaxes until his car is in the comparatively smooth waters adjacent to Bowling Green and the Battery. Gilman Died a Natural Beath. The inquest on the death of Arthur Coit Gilman, a member of the firm of J. H. Labarce & Co. of this city. who died suddenly at his residence in Flushing on Dec. 15 last, was con cluded by Coroner Corey in Flushing last night. Joseph H. Labaree, Mr. Gilman's partner, testified to calling at the Gilman residence or the day of Gilman's death to see him on busi the day of Gliman's death to see him on business matters, and that the servant who went to Mr. Gliman's rooms to sequaint him with his partner's visit came back crying and saying she could not arouse him.

When Mr. Labarce reached his bedside Mr. Gliman was past help, and he never spoke again. One of the jury asked Mr. Labarce what his motive was for having his counsel present at the inquest, and he replied that he had no motive. Lawyer Acker, the counsel referred to, in reply to a question of a juryman as to why he had said at a previous meeting that he was present to prevent any whitewashing, denied saying such a thing. The jury returned a verdict that Arthur Coit Gliman came to his death either by apoplexy or heart disease.

The Alker Estate Littgation.

Subsequent to the death in 1886 of ex-Judge Henry Alker his widow and five of the children entered into a trust agreement for the purpose of carrying out the expressed intention of Judge Alker, who had left no will. Alphonse Judge Alker, who had left no will. Alphonse H. Alker, another child, was made trustee. The estate was valued at about $200,000. It was discovered after the execution of the agreement that it gave the children only a lie interest. Alphonse brought suit to have the agreement declared valid. This action was contested, the charge of fraud being made against Alphonse. Judge lagraham of the Supreme Court has handed down a decision setting the agreement aside and directing an accounting by the trustee.

Elizabeth Should Have Returned Earlier. Elizabeth Leonard, lady's maid to Mrs. A. B. Stone, who lives in the Valencia flats in West Fifty-ninth street, was coked out by the janitor and watchman when she returned to the house after midnight on one of her "days off," some time ago, and she was obliged to obtain some time ago, and she was obliged to obtain shelter in a police station. She began suit against James McComb, the owner of the flats, to recover $0.000 demages for humilation, thysical discomfort, and injury to constacter, and for assault and battery. The in then was tried yesterday before Junce Freedman of the Spierior Court, and the defence proved that Mrs. Stone had instructed the uniter and watchman to refuse Elizabeth admission if the did not return before midnight. The Judge directed a verdict for the defeadant.

port Board of Trade are in communication with representatives of the Whytlaw Gingham Company of Glasgow, Scotland, who are in this country looking for a suitable location for their works. Owing to the McKinley bill they claim that it is a business necessity to remove to America, and Mr. J. G. Whytlaw, the hand some young millionaire owner of the concern. is strongly in favor of coming to Connecticut. From the nature of the business it is imperative that the factory must be near navigable water and where fine brook water can easily be procured. Mr. Whytlaw and his brother-in-law, Mr. Ed Sapford, visited Westport a few weeks ago and looked over the ground pretty thoroughly. They said that, although they had scoured many of the States lying east of the Mississippi River pretty thoroughly for a site, and had seen several that would do none of them had met with so much favor as those offered along the banks of the Saugatuck River, a pretty stream, navigable to large vessels, which flows through Westport. Mr. Whytlaw says his establishment is perhaps the most extensive one for the manufacture of Scotch ginghams in the world. It has a working capital of over $1,000,000, amploys 600 or more operatives the year round, and pays in salaries about $40,000 per month. The Gisagow factory will not be closed, but its business will be greatly reduced. The operatives for the establishment on this side of the water will not be imported, owing to the could be no advantage in bringing them, at the proprietor has ascertained that the kind of labor racquired in the American factory can be procured more cheaply here than abroad.

Quick Eyes.

The experienced railroad conductor easily locates and keeps in mind all the passengers on his train. He seldom asks a passenger twice for his ticket. He goes without doubt or hesitation straight to those who get on at way stations, no matter in what car they may be. Brakemen, intelligent and with an eye to the future, acquire the same habit of accurate observation. The man who walks briskly through the car, apparently intent only on reaching the brake at the other end, may take as he goes a quick mental photograph of all the passengers. At a station the other day a woman who had just stepped off a car exclaimed. "I have lost my pockethook!" A brakeman who stood on the car platform looked at her for an instant, and then, with more than a mind reader's celerity of movement and with greater certainty of action, he walked wide awake straight to the seat the lady had occupied. He was not confused by the fact that it was now occupied by other passengers; he simply asked them to let him look for the pockethook. It was there on the floor where the lady had dropped it and it was restored to her within a minute after her discovery that she had lost it. future, acquire the same habit of accurate ob-

At midnight the police arrosted in a barn belonging to btreet Commissioner McKeon Peter Walke and John Jordan, who were seen in the vicinity of Cohen's store shortly belore the robbers. Both have served terms in State prison. Walke has been out only a week. They acknowledged their guilt, but relused to tell what they did with the plunder. Officer Otto to-night found the watches in the barn but the rings are still missing. Walke gloried in the robbery, and said be learned enough in Trenton prison to keep him from working for a living. John Bernheimer, a companion of the thieves, was also arrested, but is was released to-night. He had nothing to do with the crime. the crime.

A dozen feminine shoppers poured into a Bixth avenue elevated car at Fourteenth street the other afternoon. There were seats enough for all but one, and three men were getting ready to rise. A nine-year-old schoolboy was too quick for them. and surrendered his seat with a polite tip of his cap. He was rewarded with a smile, and took his stand alone in the with a smile, and took his stand alone in the middle of the floor. Presently the motion of the car made him look up at the strap. They were out of reach. A smalen furth almost cost him his balance, and he braced himself sideways, that wouldn't do, either, and he made an attempt to reach the straps. His hands fell short by six inches and he braced himself again, all the while with a look of such alguly and araxiy that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so having that nobody dared to insult him with so him with so him to see that he had no him sympathetically, and a man said under his breath.
